BIO

Jonathan Mergui (born February 10, 2000), is an Israeli singer, songwriter, and dancer. Artistically known as "Mergui" he became a household name when he captured the runner-up position on season five of the popular reality TV series "Rising Star."

During Mergui's mid-teen years, he recorded a demo of the song "Say Something" and his journey into the musical realm began. The young artist plays piano and guitar, but his amazing vocals are the core for his love and passion for music.

2020 proved to be an exciting year for Mergui. He has officially signed to Saban Music Group (SMG) after catching the keen eye of its founder, Haim Saban. SMG is putting the absolute best production teams to write and produce his music with a plan to release Mergui's first single in Q1 2022.
